Linda

Shaun

Wow, Shaun. You must have the messiest room
in the world!

I know, Linda.

And I have to clean it before my mum gets
home from work.

You should hurry, then.

I'll help you.

What do you want to do
with these trainers?

I've never seen you wear
them

That's because they're too big.

I don't know why I bought them

Why don't you sell
them?

You can advertise them
on eBay, along with the rest of the junk you don't need any more.

That's a good idea.

Let's make a list of the things you want to sell.

How much do you want
for the trainers?

Well, they aren't as nice as my new trainers but they're great quality.

I'm sure someone will enjoy wearing them.

So let's say $10.

That's just to begin.

You might get more.

Now what about these souvenir mugs?

You've got a lot of them!

I know. I love buying mugs but I really haven't got room for them.

Do you think $5 is a good price for all of
them?

$5 is too cheap.

They're very large, and they're more attractive
than other souvenir mugs.

I'd say $8.

Oh, and look at all those magazines.

Do you still read them?

Not really. Let's ask for a dollar each.

I don't really think
anyone would buy them.
They're quite old.

You never know.

People will pay money
for the strangest things.

Like this teddy bear
here.

It's the ugliest teddy bear I've ever seen!

Please don't tell me you want to keep it!

I don't, but my little brother does.

It's his bear.

He brought it in here last week, then he couldn't find it.

I'm not surprised, with
this mess!
